Ralf Weitz has been Chief Executive Officer of Scout24 SE since March 2025. He knows the company like few others: For over 15 years, he has played a significant role in shaping the group's success story through various leadership positions.

Most recently, as Chief Product & Technology Officer (2023 to 2025), Ralf Weitz drove further innovations and was responsible for the Group's product, marketing, tech, and data organization.
